

2007 Future Technology and Trends to Watch For

By Lance Winslow

What will be the biggest news and trends in 2007? What are some of the technologies we should watch? What can we expect and what should we be keeping an eye on these days? Well not long ago our Online Think Tank considered this subject and it was deemed that the list of trends was growing and it would be a full time effort to keep a watchful eye on all this. Below is a partial list of notable things we considered;

- High Tech Sport Equipment
- Environmental Technologies

Of course with any list like this you can imagine the number of items which did not make the list but did indeed come so close. This list started with 400 items and these are the subjects that the list was reduced to.

This project took about 500 man hours and still one has to wonder if it is complete, as there are always new things on the horizon which pop up every day in the realms of science and technology and world events.

I certainly hope this article is of interest and that it has propelled thought. The goal is simple; to help you in your quest to be the best in 2007. I thank you for reading my many articles on diverse subjects, which interest you.
